Dear Bill:

I ~~would~~ enjoy meeting with your senior officers to discuss the Agency's product and key foreign policy issues likely to face us in the future.

December is going to be a hectic month, however, because of all the travel on my schedule. January would be better if that is acceptable to you and your officers. If so, perhaps your staff could contact mine after the first of the year.

Sincerely yours,

George P. Shultz

The Honorable
William J. Casey,
Director of Central Intelligence.

Dear George:

The Secretary of State is obviously one of our prime consumers and sets the pace for much of our overseas activities. It would accordingly be very useful if you could find some time in your busy schedule during December to come out and address our senior officers.

They would appreciate hearing your views on how well our product meets your needs and how we might be able to do better. They would also value your thoughts about the likely key foreign policy problems that our collectors should prepare to focus on during the next few years.

Yours,

William J. Casey
